

CARE Grant Outcome Report:
Mindset: The New Psychology of Success
For Tutor Training Classes at Chabot College
Submitted by: Jane Wolford, Learning Connection Faculty Coordinator

In December 2015 the Learning Connection was awarded a CARE grant to fund the purchase of thirty student copies of Mindset: The New Psychology of Student Success for use in third and fourth semester advanced tutor-training classes. The books are housed in the Learning Connection and available for check out each semester. One of the Fall 2016 Mindset assignments is already posted on Blackboard and available for preview below. Our training courses are fee-waived and we provide all training materials to students at no cost. Providing students free access to this course book supports our program philosophy of providing high-quality tutor training at the lowest cost possible for students. If training becomes financially burdensome we will, no doubt, lose some of our best tutors. Learning Connection staff work hard to ensure that everyone in our learning support community feels valued and supported, including those who work in our program. We thank our friends at CARE for supporting our program and our students!
